

The Black Educators & Supervisors After Party: Self-care and Black Fatigue

December 9th, 2020 5pm-7pm

NARACES is proud to present a wellness space for Black counselor educators and supervisors to engage in reflective conversation.

Dr. Devona Stalnaker-Shofner from Antioch University will hold this safe space for colleagues who identify as Black to share your genuine and authentic selves in a rich dialogue about your lived experiences.

Please watch your email if you identify as a Black educator and/or supervisor and would like to attend this event.

Please note this space will have an attendance cap of 50 people. The space is being offered in collaboration with NARACES Year of Learning and Connection presentations. You do not have to attend the below event to attend the After Party. December's Year of Learning and Collaboration presentation information:
